

CCF BOOK ROOM

We are starting a new venture at Calvary Chapel: a book circulation room. Many books have been passed along in the women's Wednesday morning Bible Study so we thought others in the church would like to have access to them.

We now have a location and are collecting books. If you have books that are Christian fiction or non-fiction (Christian self-help, devotionals, etc.) that you would like to share with others (and would not expect to get back), please bring them to church on Sunday and give them to one of the Ladies working in the Book Room. Also pass this on to the men in your lives, as we think they would be interested, as well. The books will be cataloged and organized and an announcement will be made when the room is ready for use.

If you have any questions, please call;
